

From: [conan E o"brien](mailto:conan E o)
To: croller@micro-medical.com;
CC:
Subject: Response
Date: Friday, September 22, 2000 12:57:36
Attachments:

Mr. Chris Roller,

I am communicating with you in response to a communique our office received recently. We understand you have been attempting to contact Mr. O'Brien via e-mail for some time. We further understand your employer has recently been acquired by General Electric, and that GE's Global Exchange E-Mail listings are now available to you.

Understand that Mr. O'Brien is the recipient of thousands of communications weekly, and that he obviously cannot respond to all of them. My office reviews all electronic communication received for Mr. O'Brien, and forwards to him those which appear to require his personal attention.

Surely you understand the need to limit the exposure of Mr. O'Brien's personal e-mail addresses. However, in the interest of public exposure, this address has been established as a means of allowing the general public access, albeit limited and controlled, to Mr. O'Brien.

Should you wish to forward any communication to Mr. O'Brien, you are welcome to use this address to do so. We will review you communications in strictest confidence, and will forward any communications that may require his personal attention.

We thank you for your interest in Mr. O'Brien's career, and in the Late Night television show.

Sincerely,

Todd Knight,
Electronic Communications Secretary
Mr. Conan O'Brien

Get your FREE Email and Voicemail at Lycos Communications at

<http://comm.lycos.com>

From: conan E o"brien
To: Chris Roller;
CC:
Subject: RE: Response
Date: Monday, September 25, 2000 08:11:46
Attachments:

Mr. Roller,

I have reviewed your communique, and have decided to forward it to Mr. O'Brien. Your reference to 'stalking' quite frankly concerned me: however, our initial investigation into your background returned no seriously negative results. I would advise refraining from such references in future communications with celebrity persons.

As for employment opportunities on the Late Night staff, NBC is bound by law to utilize fair and open job application practices to ensure equal opportunity for all potential employees. You may forward your resume for our human resource staff's consideration: however, unless selected for a secondary interview, I cannot forward any employment inquiries accompanied by a resume to any non-HR NBC staff (Mr. O'Brien included). You may send your resume to me, or e-mail it to jobs@nbc.com.

Once again, thank you for your interest in Mr. O'Brien's career, and in the Late Night program.

Mike Allen
Asst Electronic Secretary
Mr. Conan O'Brien

--

On Fri, 22 Sep 2000 17:29:40

Chris Roller wrote:

>I don't know how to be more serious:

>

>I would like be Conan's new sidekick.

>If that's not available, could I work on his staff - I have good >programmer/web/development skills, and good humor skills too - I've got >plenty references to prove both.

>If that's not available, could I take-part in one of Conan's skits with the >audience.

>

>I have a goofy-mode. I don't know if I can risk slipping into goofy-mode on >this line, even though I think a little goofy is good to show-off my >personality. For now, I will try to be as serious as possible until >indication otherwise.

>

>FYI. I am most definitely not a stalker, but I would really like to meet >Conan and talk with him about some experiences I had last year.

>

>I can give you references/resumes, both serious and goofy, upon request.

>

Get your FREE Email and Voicemail at Lycos Communications at <http://comm.lycos.com>