If this is suppose to be telepathic, then why are communicating via email?

Let's test out our brains.

Oh, I get it.....

Either I'm the only member.....or I'm the first sucker to join via conventional methods.

Anybody there, any which way? Hello?

Because our brains cannot write or speak. So we need email to express ourselves.

Are you Bill Gates? I'm going to expose you - suppose to last Sunday, ya know, telepathically. Oh well, time flies - soon though.

Did I hear you saying you want me. Come on, Bill, I'm saving myself for Rich Cook.

Bill, I didn't mean it. I was just testing your love for me. I felt your pain after that last message, but I'm yours now. Don't fret.

Bill, are you curious about a virtual sexual encounter? If I hear right, you're begging for it.

Telepathically speaking, you are right friend. Owner of this website www.hotmail.com is Bill Gates. Presently he is not in town. Whenever he comes, I will ask him to get in touch with you.

Telepathically yours,

Little delayed reaction on my previous, huh? It's almost like one of your sick experiments that guides (determines) the next scene of my show or something.

Did the test prove that I do really need my babes - that I am really horny and in need of serious leg? Or did it conclude that I have to wait 6 more months because I sent my last message 18 minutes too early, you sick bastards.

Who is this, Beck Anderson? Is so, I know you won't settle for the "virtual" sexual encounter.

Are you going to "direct" my movements in the scene, and are you prepared for the shock of my early exit off stage?

At this age, do you expect me to perform it in real time and space?

Yes, I very much long for virtual thing....yeh

Let's see what you mean by it.
