Chris Roller asked to speak with me regarding an email he sent last week. He sent out an email intending it as a joke along the line of "visit this site www.kiddieporn.com" to Bob Moore but instead of choosing the Bob Moore in our office it went to a Bob Moore who is a VP within GE. Chris wasn't real sure why Bob Moore (in SF) thought it was funny to start with and then all of a sudden got very upset. Chris thought that maybe Bob was looking to hurt his career somehow. He decided that he would like to also talk to Rich regarding this. We have set up an appointment for tomorrow to visit with Rich regarding this.
