PREFACE

I was talking with Richard Ostlund, defense attorney, and he said, "My client has no ill feelings toward you". Good thing that wasn't under oath, because it would be perjury.

You see, James Randi hates my guts. He thinks the Game of Life, which keeps phenomenons at bay, is working for he and the mob, when in fact, it's working for me. It's my show, although he thinks it's his. James Randi has godly powers (he's a magician), but he's playing a huge con game, convincing people there's nothing paranormal going on, when in fact, James himself has my godly powers.

That's why I can't rely on James Randi to judge this challenge. I have to rely on an official judge, on an offer I have accepted, to judge this challenge because James Randi is a fraud running a paranormal con game. His Paranormal challenge is actually a freak intake, so he can find people with special abilities, and hide them, compensate them, to put them to good use in the underground mob network, designed to profit off hidden godly powers being used throughout the planet. This is all in a well-organized quest to keep money out of the pockets of Chris Roller, who he knows, is the source of those powers. If you watch Smallville TV series, it's similar to Lex Luther in his building an army of kryptonite mutants with powers, to conspire against and try to defeat Superman. Randi is Lex Luther and I'm Superman. Or X-Men mutants with varying abilities.

You see, James Randi is mob central. He is a key figurehead in Chris Roller's woes he's suffered throughout his life. This is my detriment in consideration for the contract, along with the fact I spent hundreds of dollars to find out David Copperfield has godly powers. This is beside the fact that the mob are quietly making trillions annually off godly powers at my expense. JREF is a non-profit organization. Now that's a joke! Randi probably has $1 trillion in underground bank accounts.

I got this from City Pages concerning this case - http://blogs.citypages.com/blotter/2007/01/christopher_ro.asp#more. Randi states

Randi, however, says that a legal rejoinder is forthcoming. "I simply sent the summons off to our lawyer," he notes from his office in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. "We get this sort of thing 30 or 40 times a year at least. People are people. They're delusional."

"We get this sort of thing 30 or 40 times a year at least." I'm assuming he's talking about 30 or 40 lawsuits a year. Wow! I seriously doubt Randi can produce 10 case numbers, from last year, of people suing him like I'm doing. I guess we'll find out. Again, I believe Randi scoops up the freaks into his legion, or makes the crackpot cases disappear with his magic.

On www.mytrumanshow.com, I talk about Level I journey in which thousands of people were trying to kill me. I have no doubt (though no proof) that Randi was one. Little did I know that I once lived next door to mob central when I was working in Ft. Lauderdale, FL (JREF location).

As for proof that James Randi doesn't like me, we need to take a look at an email he sent me. See Exh. ToFromJamesRandiRedLakeShootingEmail. Pay attention to the date it was sent Monday, March 21, 2005 12:31:55, and the interesting comment, "Being brave is the only solution. Try it!" What he was saying was, "be brave and step out of your apartment so we can finish you off". My psychic senses would then inform me a full-out assault by the mob that would take place for hours. I didn't step out of my apartment, not because I was afraid of Randi, but because I simply had nowhere to go, but that didn't stop them from trying to end me. James still doesn't get it. It's my show, it's my Game of Life, not his. No one can kill me - I'm basically immortal. That's paranormal! Now these attempted hits usually leave nothing real to go on (no proof). But look at the date James' email was sent - Monday, March 21, 2005 12:31:55. This is the day that the Red Lake Indian Reservation school shooting took place. Here's the story. http://wcco.com/topstories/local_story_080164955.html. You see, at 3pm., the shooting took place. This is during the time of the attempted hit on me. You see what happens.... there was such an intense attack/frustration built up from the inability to kill me (by probably dozens/hundreds of mob assailants), that like a rubber band being stretched to it's brink, a magic back-lash (magic negative feedback) occurred (reality leak-through), causing the Red Lake shooting. This is not the first time this has occurred.

- Columbine - I had just found out someone slipped drugs into my drink a week earlier, and was punishing them with my magic - 20Apr1999.
- Red Lake shooting - 21 Apr 2006 - http://wcco.com/topstories/local_story_080164955.html.
- Montreal - Sept. 13, 2006 <http://www.cbc.ca/canada/story/2006/09/13/shots-dawson.html>
- Bailey, Colo shooting - 27 Sep 2006. <http://www.cnn.com/2006/US/09/28/school.shooting/index.html>.
- Cazenovia, Wis. - Sept. 29, 2006 - A 15-year-old student shot and killed Weston School principal John Klang.
- Amish school incident - 2 Oct 2006 - <http://www.cnn.com/2006/US/10/02/amish.shooting/index.html> Had hair transplants that day. My first hair transplants was the morning of 9/11. I've got to stop getting hair transplants. Perhaps the mob may have been trying to end me while I was in Chicago that day.

These events seem to have a few things in common.

- School children involved,
- the gunman turns the gun on himself - Motive is lacking - little explanation for the event.
- Quantity of drugs I'm currently on.
- My magic is being used - usually in self-defense.

The only ones I can put my finger on is Columbine, and thanks to James Randi email, the Red Lake shooting. 3 shootings in one week does make me wonder

(the last 3) what's going on. Others (<http://www.infoplease.com/ipa/A0777958.html> is a more extensive list) have no direct correlation to my show it would appear, although when I'm in auto-mode, my defenses are very quiet while very effective, and back-lash could be occurring as a result of attempted hits.

I take these school shootings seriously when I hear about them. But as you can imagine, it's hard to talk about and be taken seriously - but I'm telepathic (Aff God&Plan&Heaven) and it's happening. I'm not trying to say that Red Lake shooting is criminal "proof" against James Randi. I understand what proof is, but when something in the negative magical event has a real-life side-effect, we may need to address it in the future, so that when I talk to police about what's going on in Chris Roller's magical world, they don't lock me into a mental institution. Godly powers are a reality, and paranormal side-effects of magic need to be addressed by the legal system, and consider it a possible defense for the shooter - almost a person's losing his mind, lost control, almost like "the devil made me do it". Unfortunately, few of the shooters are alive to hear about this magical back-lash defense.

I just found about this incident 28Apr1999 - <http://www.cnn.com/WORLD/americas/9904/29/canada.shooting/index.html>. It occurred the day after my morph (27Apr1999). I was so busy fighting off my demons that I didn't hear about it when it happened. There was a lot of magic activity 28Apr1999. I wasn't on drugs, but it may have back-lashed into the school shooting. Yet the shooter is alive, so maybe he has a possible defense.

Drug related

- I tried out a heavy dose of a new (different) drug called Risperdal on Wednesday, June 29, 2005 and was exercising my demons (magically beating the mob). That night, I stopped in at Bumpers in Burnsville to find mourning - that a patron, Howard Groves, had died at home earlier that day of a heart attack. I got the feeling they think I killed him. Month or two later, they even kicked me out of the bar for life cause they hate me. I rarely exercise my demons any more. I'm unclear if Howard was actually a demon (mob).
- 9/11 occurred while on huge meds. My first hair transplant scar (9/11 scars) formed that morning thanks to the work of a wonderful plastic surgeon. People think I did 9/11 too. People think I'm the devil, when in fact, I've got demons like James Randi, the mob, and mafia (George Bush comes to mind) setting me up as a false prophet.

Back-lash doesn't always happen. David Copperfield called me on 26Apr2005 to talk me out of my suit. When I declined, he proceeded to have his thugs (intense) try and end me for the next hour or so. I'm unsure if/what drugs I was on during that time (I believe none). Nothing back-lashed.

This was the result of the David Copperfield case...

(b) there is no known or recognized cause of action for usurpation of [Chris'] godly powers.

Unfortunately this is the case. Granting of godly powers by the Game of Life is quite random - the cause is unknown, the powers given vary in ability, and unfortunately, the judge felt that I didn't deserve any compensation for my wonderful powers. I hope this philosophy changes, or it will be tough to rule the world without any money. :) James Randi and his mob (my demons) are currently making trillions of dollars annually off my godly powers via magicians and electronic and medical technology - all conveniently hidden and/or excused. I deserve some compensation. The mob enjoy the good life, while beating Chris Roller down in his reject hole via conspiring psychiatrists, all while attempting to kill him occasionally, and desperately praying that the Game of Life doesn't let him surface to claim James Randi $million paranormal challenge, and exposing the biggest con the planet has ever witnessed, and officially/eventually inform the world of godly powers.

I emailed Randi in Aug of 2005, informing him of my evidence of the Copperfield case. That gave Randi every opportunity to change the contract to prevent me from winning the challenge. I believe the Game of Life is tying Randi's hands a bit, because over a year later, contract unchanged, I still see nothing in the challenge keeping my proof from earning me the $1 million.

This case should prove to be very interesting. Randi wants to fight this case. Ok. I will depose James Randi and I'm going to ask him about the email of March 21, 2005 and hits of 1999. Maybe Randi is how I find out about the hits of '99. I know it originated in part from South Florida. James thinks he's in control of what he says and does. Wouldn't that be something if the Game of Life makes Randi admit the March 21, 2005 hit or the hits of 1999 - it's called leak-through. Magic leak-through is another phenomenon! The court scene is already sick of Chris Roller plugging up the system with bizarre cases, but imagine the hundreds of lawsuits if I were to find out the companies involved in the hits of '99. Whew! Here's the irony. James knows he's busted. He knows I've won the challenge, but doesn't want to pay...drags this thing out, just to accidentally admit under oath he's committed a crime, and thus goes to jail. Now that would be funny! I'm finding the legal system very "real" when it comes to magic. Copperfield fessed up to godly powers via the court forum. What else will I find? I'm going to really test the leak-through by doing a paternity test of Celine Dion's 6 year old boy soon. We'll see. Imagine if that leaks-through! How's Randi going to defend immaculate conception? Paranormal will be a norm soon. Common sense would say to Randi, just pay the $1 mil and avoid any further legal ramifications of dealing with Chris Roller. I have found the Game of Life, in the name of entertainment, makes people do and say some very strange things.

Ostlund insists he knows the judge, and this case is going to be dropped. I've got to admit - I lost some sleep after hearing that remark. This is an example of saying something uncharacteristic, like the Game made him say it. Now I realize the mob is instilled throughout every major profession (mob told me this), especially the legal system (perhaps Ostlund - lawyers are said to be the devils advocate). But here's the deal...I don't care if Randi pays off the judge (no disrespect) for $10 million to try to contain this conspiracy against me. The Game of Life is in control, and I know it's working for me, and if needed, it will "recast" (www.mytrumanshow.com) actors to a different type to meet the needs of the Game. Actor recasting is another phenomenon.

LEGAL ANALYSIS

This challenge is about proving the existence of the paranormal. The Game of Life is paranormal. Hundred monkey phenomenon is paranormal, and godly powers are paranormal. I'm god/God, that's paranormal. I must have expressed a dozen paranormal events in this document that are all true, albeit difficult to prove. But I have hard proof... From David Copperfield case, he states...

(b) there is no known or recognized cause of action for usurpation of [Chris'] godly powers.

Copperfield has godly powers - that's paranormal. David Copperfield doesn't enter the challenge and collect the $1 million because he's part of the con and mob conspiracy against me. I am the source of those godly powers - I'm god - that's paranormal. Heck, I seem to be the acting liaison of the Game of Life, and thus I may be the almighty God. See Aff God&Plan&Heaven. Wait 'til the Christians hear about this! Oh, the anticipated love! I don't wish to prove that currently though - god and godly powers is good enough for this challenge.

Subject matter jurisdiction via diversity (different states), and this case is about winning $1 million, which is over $75,000.

Personal jurisdiction via minimum contacts. Randy gathers freaks from all over the world, who apply to his challenge. He has agents throughout each state, including MN, and throughout the world, to monitor, inspect, and employ challengers where appropriate. All this meets the minimum contacts requirement for personal jurisdiction.

All non-UCC contracts have an obligation of "good faith and fair dealing". I do not trust the moderator of the contract at JREF. That's why I need an official judge for this challenge.

(b) there is no known or recognized cause of action for usurpation of [Chris'] godly powers.

Not only does this statement mean that David Copperfield has godly powers, but he has my godly powers. That is as paranormal as it gets. The challenge asks for the "satisfactory observing conditions". Anyone can observe David's show to witness the paranormal and my wonderful powers. The answer states I have not met the conditions, but states no details for me to argue. As far as I can tell, I have met the conditions in an obligated "good faith and fair dealing" contract to satisfy the $1 million paranormal challenge.

CONCLUSION

I'm suing James Randi Educational Foundation for $1 million for proving that paranormal events are occurring on planet Earth by David Copperfield and thus satisfying the JREF Paranormal challenge.
